

Turkey Oak

Quercus laevis (Fagaceae)

Identification: Turkey oak leaves resemble those of southern red oak but are light green and shiny both above and below and have a v-shaped base.

Notes: This species was a minor component of the original longleaf forests but when these forests were cut, turkey oaks often came to dominate the sites.