

Sessile Joyweed

Description: native to Australia and Asia; young shoots and leaves used as vegetable; has large amounts of the anti-oxidant carotene and many uses in folk medicine

Family: Amaranthaceae

Scientific name:

Alternanthera sessilis

For more information about NATL plants, visit <http://natl.ifas.ufl.edu/plants.htm>