

River birch

Description: This tree is easily recognized by reddish brown bark that peels into papery thin layers. Commonly found throughout Florida in wet bottomlands. A number of species of birds eat river birch seeds, including wild turkey.

Family: Betulaceae

Scientific name: Betula nigra

For more information on our SEEP plants, please visit <http://natl.ifas.ufl.edu/>