

Wax Myrtle

Description: a fragrant evergreen that prefers moist, sandy soils; one of the few species that produces fruit during the winter months; wax extracted from the berries is used to make candles.

Family: Myricaceae

Scientific name:
Myrica cerifera

For more information about NATL plants, visit <http://natl.ifas.ufl.edu/plants.htm>