

Paraguayan Purslane

Description: native to South America; reddish fleshy stems; narrow leaves with abrupt point at end; also known as Pink Purslane; often planted for groundcover

Family: Portulacaceae

Scientific name:
Portulaca amilis

For more information about NATL plants, visit <http://natl.ifas.ufl.edu/plants.htm>