

Laurel Oak

Quercus hemisphaerica (Fagaceae)

Identification: Laurel oak leaves are smooth and limber, and shiny on both sides. Their shape varies, especially on saplings and in the shade.

Notes: Suppression of fire from the 1940's until the start of NATL allowed this species to thrive and to curtail the reproduction of longleaf pine.